Best Tourism Villages by UNWTO

Areas of Evaluation
The Best Tourism Villages by UNWTO pilot initiative aims to make tourism a positive force for transformation, rural development, and community wellbeing.

It seeks to advance the role of tourism in valuing and safeguarding rural villages along with their associated landscapes, knowledge systems, biological and cultural diversity, local values and activities (agriculture, forestry, livestock and/or fisheries), including their gastronomy.

The initiative will promote, in particular, innovative and transformative approaches to the development of tourism in rural destinations that contribute to the three pillars of sustainability – economic, social and environmental – in line with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

The Best Tourism Villages by UNWTO aims to maximize the contribution of tourism to:

1. Reduce regional inequalities in income and development.
2. Fight rural depopulation.
3. Progress gender equality and women’s and youth empowerment.
4. Promote rural transformation and strengthen traction capacity.
5. Strengthen multi-level-governance, partnerships and the active involvement of communities (public-private-community collaboration)
6. Improve connectivity, infrastructure, access to finance and investment.
7. Advance innovation and digitalization.
8. Innovate in product development and value chain integration.
9. Promote the relationship between sustainable, equitable and resilient food systems and tourism to preserve biodiversity, agrobiodiversity, cultural heritage and local gastronomy.
10. Advance the conservation of natural and cultural resources.
11. Promote sustainable practices for a more efficient use of resources and a reduction of emissions and waste.
12. Enhance education and skills development.

In addition to information on the areas abovementioned, applications must include an Application Rationale in which they must provide:

1. Motivation Statement: candidates must explain in what ways the village fills in the objectives of the initiative - to promote tourism as a driver of sustainable tourism in all its aspects – economic, social and environmental.

2. Commitment and Future Actions: candidates are requested to present the following elements:

   - Identify and analyse threats and challenges to the sustainability of tourism development in the village.

- What are the policies, strategies and actions that will be taken in the next five years and how will they respond to the threats identified?

- How these will contribute to the conservation of the cultural and natural assets and to the three dimensions – economic, social and environmental - of sustainable tourism.

- How are multi-stakeholders, including local communities, involved to support these actions.

- What actions will they be seeking for funding and/or to mobilize resources at the local, national and/or international level and how.

- How will the village monitor the progress of these actions.
Glossary of tourism terms and other definitions

Activity/activities: In tourism statistics, the term activities represent the actions and behaviours of people in preparation for and during a trip in their capacity as consumers.\(^2\)

Census: A census is the complete enumeration of a population or groups at a point in time with respect to well defined characteristics: for example, Population, Production, Traffic on particular roads.\(^3\)

Competitiveness of a tourism destination: The competitiveness of a tourism destination is the ability of the destination to use its natural, cultural, human, man-made and capital resources efficiently to develop and deliver quality, innovative, ethical and attractive tourism products and services in order to achieve a sustainable growth within its overall vision and strategic goals, increase the added value of the tourism sector, improve and diversify its market components and optimize its attractiveness and benefits both for visitors and the local community in a sustainable perspective.\(^4\)

Innovation in tourism: Innovation in tourism is the introduction of a new or improved component which intends to bring tangible and intangible benefits to tourism stakeholders and the local community, improve the value of the tourism experience and the core competencies of the tourism sector and hence enhance tourism competitiveness and/or sustainability. Innovation in tourism may cover potential areas, such as tourism destinations, tourism products, technology, processes, organizations and business models, skills, architecture, services, tools and/or practices for management, marketing, communication, operation, quality assurance and pricing.\(^5\)

Quality of a tourism destination: Quality of a tourism destination is the result of a process which implies the satisfaction of all tourism product and service needs, requirements and expectations of the consumer at an acceptable price, in conformity with mutually accepted contractual conditions and the implicit underlying factors such as safety and security, hygiene, accessibility, communication, infrastructure and public amenities and services. It also involves aspects of ethics, transparency and respect towards the human, natural and cultural environment. Quality, as one of the key drivers of tourism competitiveness, is also a professional tool for organizational, operational and perception purposes for tourism suppliers.\(^6\)

Tourism destination: A tourism destination is a physical space with or without administrative and/or analytical boundaries in which a visitor can spend an overnight. It is the cluster (co-location) of products and services, and of activities and experiences along the tourism value chain and a basic unit of analysis of tourism. A destination incorporates various stakeholders and can network to form larger destinations. It is also intangible with its image and identity which may influence its market competitiveness.\(^7\)

Tourism expenditure: Tourism expenditure refers to the amount paid for the acquisition of consumption goods and services, as well as valuables, for own use or to give away, for and during tourism trips. It includes expenditures by visitors themselves, as well as expenses that are paid for or reimbursed by others.\(^8\)

Tourism product: A tourism product is a combination of tangible and intangible elements, such as natural, cultural and man-made resources, attractions, facilities, services and activities around a specific center of interest which represents the core of the destination marketing mix and creates an overall visitor experience including emotional aspects for the potential customers. A tourism product is priced and sold through distribution channels and it has a life-cycle.\(^9\)

Tourism industries: Tourism industries comprise all establishments for which the principal activity is a tourism characteristic activity. Tourism industries (also referred to as tourism activities) are the activities that typically produce tourism characteristic products.\(^10\)

Tourism sector: The tourism sector […] is the cluster of production units in different industries that provide consumption goods and services demanded by visitors. Such industries are called tourism industries because visitor acquisition represents such a significant share of their supply that, in the absence of visitors, their production of these would cease to exist in meaningful quantity.\(^11\)

Tourism value chain: The tourism value chain is the sequence of primary and support activities which are strategically fundamental for the performance of the tourism sector. Linked processes such as policy making and integrated planning, product development and packaging, promotion and marketing, distribution and sales and destination operations and services are the key primary activities of the tourism value chain. Support activities involve transport and infrastructure, human resource development, technology and systems development and other complementary goods and services which may not be related to core tourism businesses but have a high impact on the value of tourism.\(^12\)

Tourist (or overnight visitor): A visitor […] is classified as a tourist (or overnight visitor), if his/her trip includes an overnight stay, or as a same-day visitor (or excursionist) otherwise.\(^13\)

Travel / traveller: Travel refers to the activity of travellers. A traveller is someone who moves between different geographic locations, for any purpose and any duration. The visitor is a particular type of traveller and consequently tourism is a subset of travel.\(^14\)
